MRS. ODDIE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Ellen M. Oddie, mother of Governor Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada, died Friday night at the executive mansion. She had been critically ill for two days. Governor Oddie, Clarence M. Oddie, wife and children, Mrs. F. J. Siebert and children, Miss Sarah Oddie and Miss Grace Oddie were at the bedside. Mrs. Oddie was 73 years of age and had been a resident of Nevada over 15 years. She followed her sons to Tonopah in the early days of mining there and presided at the "company house" there. When her son was elected governor (she presided as hostess at the executive mansion. The funeral services were conducted at Carson Sunday afternoon.

Kunz Offered Splendid Job

As a balm to Southern Nevada Democrats for failure to give that section the United States district attorneyship, and also in recognition of the ability and political service of John F. Kunz, who came within an ace of landing the plum, the Nevada senators have recommended Kunz for the position of land attorney to the Interstate Commerce commission, the main duties of which will be to act as counsellor and advisor to the appraisal committee of that department, with headquarters on the Pacific coast.

The position carries with it not only a big lot of responsibility but a salary in excess of that of the federal attorneyship of this district. Kunz' friends state that the Goldfield attorney will undoubtedly accept the position. Appeal.

Should Start Work On Building

Work should be started soon on the Nevada building for the Exposition in San Francisco. Nearly all the other states have begun work and, while there is no immediate danger of being late it will take some time to properly arrange the exhibits and complete the building.

Nevada has probably the best site of any of the states, just overlooking the water and close to the main buildings, and there is no reason why we should not have a Class A exhibit when the fair opens next February. Virginia Enterprise.

Joseph McCormick, who has been connected with the Virginia and Truckee for the past forty-two years, has resigned his position. Joe is known to thousands of travelers that have journeyed on the express on which he has been conductor since 1884 and many will miss his genial greeting. Appeal.

Reservoir May be Built Next Year

HOPES of the early commencement of a new irrigation project on the headwaters of the Carson river, are expressed at Carson City following the visit to the proposed site on Tuesday of Engineer Hobson of the government reclamation service. The trip follows the promise made to Nevada delegates at the Denver irrigation congress that it would be made immediately after the adjournment.

According to prominent Carson City men, Hobson made the statement before he left that he hoped to see the government establish reservoirs for storage waters for vacant land in the Carson Valley next year. He also said the reservoirs would be as high up as possible and it is understood one of the Springmeyer ranches is the proposed site.

To provide water for the large vacant acreage in the district it is believed, would result in a quick increase in population and resultant prosperity for the whole western part of the state.

During their visit to Carson City, W. R. Scott, general manager of the Southern Pacific; E. E. Brown, first vice president, and C. E. Levy, vice president and general manager of the Western Pacific, visited Minden and some of the surrounding territory in company with A. M. Ardery, manager of the Virginia & Truckee railroad, and expressed themselves as much impressed with the possibilities of the Carson Valley.

It is said private undertakings to water the valley from the upper Carson were prevented by the government some time ago. "I am informed that California people are anxious to purchase these lands in small tracts," said Mr. Ardery, following the trip to Minden. "It is the owners of small tracts who are taking good care of their land and making money, and it is to development along that line we must look for increased business and prosperity."

WHY WOMEN SHOULD VOTE

Views of Two Little Girls of the East Fork District School

By Lillie Jacobsen, Age 14.
Women should vote because they have to work just as men do and some times they have to work for lower wages than men.

Women who have land have to pay taxes on it, so they should help say how the money should be used. Women must obey the laws just as men do and if they don't obey them they are punished.

If women should not vote they ought not have to obey the laws or pay taxes.

Women have to suffer from bad government just as men have to. If they shouldn't vote they ought not to suffer from bad government.

The constitution says that the government is of the people, by the people and for the people. And the women are people.

Some people say that the women should pay poll taxes too if they want to vote. I guess if they want to vote they will pay poll taxes.

Some people say that women are supposed to fight if they vote. And the people say that women are afraid to fight and they don't know how to shoot. But if you read in the newspapers, it says that some women can shoot even better than men.

Not all the men that are living today have fought in battles.

Another thing: a mother wants to make a better family of her children which the men never take interest in. And that is another reason why they should vote.

And there are many other reasons why women should vote.

When in need of anything in the line of good printing call at the Courier office and leave your order.

By Alma Sattelmeyer, Age 15.
The women need the vote because they are people just the same as the men.

The men think the women should stay home and mind her business while they go and make the laws.

The women have to care for the children's health and if they get canned fruit and vegetables, etc. at the store and the fruit is spoiled, she feeds it to the children and they get sick, whose fault is it? It's the men's fault because they have to care for the food.

The woman is responsible for the cleanliness of her house. The man isn't.

She is responsible if the children are not brought up right.

The women can hold office just as well as the men.

Women have to work for lower wages than men in some cases.

Women have to pay tax on the land they own even if they do not vote. So why can't they vote? They should not pay tax because they do not vote.

If they do not obey the laws they get punished for it, when they ought not because they have no right to help make the laws.

Men think the women cannot stand a long strain, but some women have to raise a large family and stand around a hot stove and do the cooking for the family and a large bunch of men besides.

Men may think that everything will go wrong when the women begin to vote, but they better wait till the women vote in Nevada and then talk.

Notice to Water Consumers

Notice is given to water consumers that irrigation of lawns and gardens from our system is forbidden. No restrictions for domestic use of water is made. The pumping plant is not of sufficient capacity to allow irrigating and water used for this purpose renders the plant useless in case of fire, as sufficient pressure cannot be maintained. Ample water for irrigation may be secured from the ditches and this source must be made use of.
